Feedback:

In the Law office scene, I found the line "We will look into this right away." a little confusing. It's unclear which character is meant to be saying it or if a specific character is meant to be saying it at all.

In the same scene, when Billy references the landlord character the word Landlord is capitalized. I think this is intentional as it seems that in other scenes this is used as the character's name. In this scene, they are incorrectly referred to as "this Landlord."

Weird interaction where dialogue that should only appear in the Lawyer office scene after visiting the Laundry room scene appeared during my first visit to the Lawyer's office.
